

81st District judge retires, judgeship now eliminated

Holly Nelson

Nov 30, 2016

Judge Allen C. Yenior

File photo

TAWAS CITY – The state's largest district court, the 81st District, composed of the counties of Iosco, Alcona, Arenac and Oscoda, the largest in the state, no longer has an elected district judge.

Judge Allen C. Yenior retired effective today, Nov. 30, turning in his retirement papers last week in Lansing.

He will not be replaced. With his retirement, the judgeship ends, the result of legislation enacted in 2012.

Not getting the whole story? You probably aren't. The stories at iosconews.com and oscodapress.com are previews. For the whole story, subscribe to the print edition or the E-edition of this newspaper today by calling the Iosco County News-Herald at 989-362-3456 or the Oscoda Press at 989-739-2054.